Part of Raleigh's urban family, the Port Townsend is an upright, city bike that allows you to carry all your goods and look great doing it. Designed with serious style and specific use in mind, this chromoly steel beauty prefers tooling around town to cool cafes and pub crawls. In fact, it's even made with a front rack that's conveniently sized for a half rack (or whatever else you can imagine). Made with a Reynolds 520 steel frame and fork to swallow bumps and exude classic style, the Port Townsend provides saddle to handlebar comfort with an upright riding position that allows you to easily see what lies ahead. The Shimano Rapidfire 9 Speed Plus Shifters offer 18 speeds to choose from and big, road worthy tires instill confidence while rounding corners in the city. Full fenders for inclement weather and lock on grips make this bike ready to play, year-round.
